CHAUTAUQUA HAS FINE PROGRAM

Alten Packard on Program For To-Night's Entertainment.

The Redpath Chautauqua opened in Hickman Saturday afternoon and will close tonight with a concert by Groebecker's Swiss Yodlers and Musical and Cartoon Revue by Alton Packard.

Notable among the numbers on the program have been the lecture by Harry L. Fogleman, the concert by Dun-bar's White Hussars and the comedy. "Nothing But The Truth."

The program this year has been one of the best which the Redpath has brought to this city. It has been a varied program carrying with it entertainment for every one. Many of the numbers have in themselves been well worth the price of the season ticket.

One of the most celebrated numbers on the program will be the one tonight in the cartoon revue by Alton Packard. It is said that he is the highest priced single chautauqua performer on the platform today. An additional feature will be sketches of ten or twelve prominent men of the city made by Mr. Packard while here, which will be displayed in a prominent place.

The chauatauqua this year has hardly made the guarantee, a slight deficit having been made up by the guarantors. The superintendent, George Gass, and Miss Katherine Raiston, in charge of the children's hour each morning, are excellent people and have become very popular with the local people during their short stay with us.

Nemitz Hurls First Shut-Out for Locals Allowing Four Hits.

The locals went over to Fulton Tuesday for a single game and returnwith a three to nothing verdict over the Fulton lads.

Nemitz, for Hekman, southpawed his way to a decision by the shut out route when he let our neighboring Fulton Countians down with four widely scattered bingles, some of them of he scratchy variety. The local portsider had his curves and fast one breaking right and thirteen of the opposing team took three swings and went to the water bucket. Only once was Nemitz in danger of being scored on, when with a runner on second and third and one out, he struck out the next man for the second out and forced the last man to hit weakly to the in-

Hickman scored one in the first inning when Crowe singled and Mercer tripled to deep right center. In the third Nemitz singled and was sacrificed to second scoring when Crowe hit one through the shortstop. In the seventh Mercer singled to center, stole second and scored when Neeley singled down third base line.

A feature of the game, besides the pitching of Nemitz, was a shoestring catch by Thrasher in the first inning for the third out with two on.

This vitriolic outburst is from the pen of Blinkey Horn, sporting editor of the Tennessean. It is wholly un-founded, lacking even the semblance of truth. It is hard to understand how such an absolutely unfounded report could get out. If it were not for the liability of the report being believed by some, it would be almost humorous. The report can hardly have come from May-field for there is not a fan in Mayfield who doesn't know Kay Beach, who pitched the game referred to. At first. it was claimed by the Mayfield team that the umpire took the game, but from this above diatribe we presume it s now being ascribed to another cause. Be that as it may, such unfounded statements in a newspaper as widely circulated as the Tennessean cannot but do harm to the team and the city which

My practice has brought me in contact with the best talent afforded by this great Commonwealth. I know full well that the Commonwealth's Attorney often has for opposing counsel very able lawyers indeed, but I feel that my three and one half years of experience as County Attorney of Ballard County has in no small measure added to my knowledge and experience in the practice of Criminal Law. I also am of the opinion that, while the office for which I seek the nomination is a very important one; that it should be filled, by not only a competent man byt a conservative one to the end that the majesty of the law shall be maintained and not to the end

The men's bible classes of the Hicknan and Fulton Methodist Sunday Schools enjoyed a fish fry on the banks of Hamby's Pond Friday. 158 were present when dinner was served. ROUTEN-FELIX

News was received here the past veek of the wedding of Fain Routen, of this city, and Miss Eva Felix, of Akron, Ohio, the wedding occurring in Cleveland, Ohio, a short distance from Akron, on Sunday, the 5th. The groom was born and reared in this vicinity and is well known to Hickman people. He has been a resident of Akron for the past two or three years, returning that the office should become one of here last winter for a few months, and is at the present time working for the Goodrich Rubber plant.

The guarantee of $1250 which was nade by a large number of the citizens of Hickman to the Redpath Chautauqua for their program in the city this year was not met by the sale of season tickof your neighboring town, Martin, Tenn. ets. The deficit had to be made up by the guarantors.

There is now some talk of giving up the idea of having a chautauqua in the city next year, because of the fact that the program did not pay this year. This sphere; into which womanhood has will be a step backward. Surely we come (and to many it might be said, do not wish to go backward. DEATH OF MOSE BARKETT.

A telegram was received Monday by A. S. Barkett announcing the death Monday morning of Mose Barkett at his home in Wichita Falls, Tex., death resulting from tuberculosis. He had been in ill health for the past year or more and had been confined to his room for the past few months. He was taken the 11th of May to a tuberculosis camp home on May 30th, as an incurable, and his death was expected. Mose as he was familiarly known to Hick man people, was well known here. He resided in Hickman for a good many years, operating stores in the lower bottom, in West Hickman and at the old Amberg stand, now a part of the St. Louis Furishing Company, also in the wholesale grocery business and other kind sof business here, and his death is received with regret by his many friends here. He was a cousin or A. S. and W. S. Barkett, of this city. He is survived by his wife and five children, the youngest about eighten months old, also two sisters in Wichita Falls. He was born and reared in Judidit. Syria, but came to this country about twenty-three years ago and located immediately in this section. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Wichita Falls. A. S. BOILER IN EARTH'S INTERIOR

Constant Inflow of Sea Is Said to Be Responsible for Destructive Earthquakes.

One of the world's wonders of which few people have ever heard is at Argostoli, in the island of Cephalonia, the largest of the seven Ionian islands. The power that works the corn mills at Argostoli is derived from the sea, which rushes downward into the land. Many millions of gallons of salt water have run down into the interior of the earth in this manner.

Experts believe that the water finds its way down through the soil and rocks to heated areas far beneath the surface, where it becomes steam.

But where are the necessary outlets for such vast clouds of steam? The opinion is held by some that the answer to this mystery is to be found in the frequent activity of the nearest Shunting Without Locomotive. Railroad yards are now being equipped with a system which disenses with the necessity of making use of a locomotive and its crew merey for the purpose of shifting a car or two. An electric capstan was reently introduced for just such a pursose. The car pulier, as the device is called, consists of a powerful electric notor driving a capstan through a low reduction coff. In order to pull one or two cars along the track, one end of a stout rope is made fast to a car while the other end is wrapped around the capstan and pulled by the operator so as to insure a firm hold. A handle protruding through the motor casing serves to start and stop the

FATNESS NO SIGN OF HEALTH

When a person becomes stout after about forty years of age it does not quiet affair, with no decorations other worry him, or her, unless the stoutness be so great as to cause discomfort or disfigurement. PROVIDES FARMS FOR POOR

Self-Help Project Fathered by Nebraska Philanthropist Seems Move In Right Direction.

H. D. Watson, millionaire farmer and philanthropist of Kearney, Neb., who is perhaps doing more than any other one man in the United States to make the "back-to-the-land" movement a reality, is in Alamosa investigating the advantages of the San Luis valley as a place to locate one of his community farm projects, O. E. Meyer writes in the Rocky Mountain News. Mr. Watson already has acquired a tract of 300 acres at Carbondale, Colo., and is now making arrangements for starting one of his farm communities there. However, the Carbondale district is limited in extent and land is higher priced, and he found it inexpedient to acquire as large a tract as he wanted. He will settle a family vision of the proceeds amongst the on each 22 acres of the Carbondale Mr. Watson places upon an applicant for one of his community tracts is that the applicant be absolutely without money or other property. The tenant is located on the tract with all necessary tools, stock and seed furnished. In addition he is furnished with a sum of money during the first year. After that the land is expected to produce enough to make a living for the family and provide a sinking fund for paying for the land. In six or eight years the farmer, if he is the right sort, owns his land.

Mourning Chevrons on "Beer" Suits. When the Princeton seniors appeared in their "beer" suits last year, with a black mourning brassard on very nifty. But they've beaten it this spring. The beer suits were broken out out early this week, and they have three small black chevrons on the left cuff, each indicating six months of prohibition. The beer suit custom is indigenous to Princeton. Before the days of Volsteadism the suits-plain white "jumpers" and pantaloons-appeared, simultaneously with the bock beer signs, and gave unique distinction to the seniors, passing their last spring in scholastic trammels, Also, there were some jolly parties in certain cozy corners in the classic shades of the collegiate town. Facing Buildings With Pottery. In a recent lecture before an English gathering Prof. Beresford Pite discussed the possibilities of ceramic products in the clothing of reinforced concrete skeleton buildings. Unlike many architects who regard traditional practice as something quite sacred, Professor Pite would throw the conventions of the past to the winds in order to meet modern developments, While admitting the structural advantages of reinforced concrete, he is not an admirer of concrete as a material for exterior surfaces, and advocates the clothing of the structural skeleton with "a garment of permanent, effective, beautiful, ceramic color, unlimited in its variety and worth,"--

This flea-bitten world is round like a very baseball, or like a nut, and is slightly fattened at the polls. There are more islands on it than fleas on a public pup and they are just about as hard to pick. Who ever thought Yap was an island? Everybody thought it was the noblest of all the beasts of the field—a man. Why is Yap? Nobody knows. Nobody knows why Rameses built the pyramids, or why the mound builders built the mounds or why Rockefeller built his whale of a fortune, but there they are. Why? We hope Congress can locate Yap and get the janitor to let Uncle Sam inspect it before he moves in for he might not want it when he gets it. The above cartoon by Alton Packard raps the Yap situation right where Yap yaps, wherever that is. Havalaff!

DAILY MEALS.

One of the important things of life s the planning and serving of three meals a day, which is the work of the housekeeper in every home. To serve these meals so that they appeal to the appetite and supply the proper balance of food is no small task. No woman can feed her family well unless she plans her meals beforehand. The haphazard serving of what happens to be at hand is neither wise nor economical.

The woman who does her marketing herself, as a rule, is the one who gets the best service and often choice foods which will add variety may be found which would otherwise be missed. The best cuts of meat will be seen and bought by the woman doing her own marketing and she learns much about meat by the daily visits take HAYES' HEALING HONEY, a with an intelligent butcher.

RAISE ORPHAN FOAL BY HAND

Not Uncommon for Mare to Die, Leaving Youngster Dependent on Artificial Feeding.

It is not uncommon for a mare to die shortly after foaling, thus leaving her foal dependent on artificial feeding for its sustenance; and some mares furnish an insufficient amount of milk for their colts. Cow's milk furnishes a most logical substitute for mare's milk, but as the composition is somewhat different, certain changes or modifications are necessary in order that the supplied diet be not too dissimilar from the natural. The following table of percentage gives the average composition of the two kinds of milk:

Mare's milk..90.78 1.99 1.21 4.88 Milk from as fresh a cow as pos-spoonful of sugar and about 3 tablespoonfuls of lime water should be added for each pint. This mixture should be supplied to the colt at about body temperature. A bottle with a rubber nipple, or even a finger of a kid glove with a fair-sized hole in it fitted over the end of a spout of a vessel such as a teapot, will serve as a convenient utensil in getting the foal to take the milk. If the finger of a kid glove is used it should be as clean as possible. At first about one-half a cup of milk should be given every hour, the quantity to be increased slightly and the intervals to be lengthened gradually as the foal grows older. In about 2 months skimmed milk may be substituted for whole milk, and in addition one of the following rations should be fed: One part of flaxseed meal boiled to a jelly, and 2 or 3 parts of bran. Or 2 parts ground oats, 1 part corn meal, one half-part flaxseed meal. Or 2 parts of bran, 2 parts corn meal, and 1 part oil meal. Feed a double handful a day to start with, and increase the amount gradually.

Raising a foal by hand is not a job for the careless and indifferent. It requires patience, painstaking care, perseverance, judgment, and cleanliness. The vessel in which the milk is supplied should be scalded thoroughly each time it is used. Unclean receptacles for the milk and irregular intervals for feeding likely will cause scours. The quarters should be very clean and the orphaned foal should have company of some kind. Another foal is desirable, but even a calf is better than no company. A grassy paddock with abundant shade, fresh water and protection from flies will increase the orphan's chance of proper development.
